In these hard times we want to bring a smile to your face. We have heartwarming stories too.

An eight-year-old boy Sam saw the beautiful stars for the first time. Sam had rare disorder of blindness. He was able to see because of Gene therapy.

A dog named Eba helped to save a killer whale when she was just a few weeks old! She got dumped outside she was cold but luckily after she got care she was adopted by Dr. Deborah Giles a killer whale researcher.

A five-year-old boy visited 67 waterfalls! He had this idea during quarantine. He wanted to be outdoors as much as he could. Visiting 67 waterfalls is super cool and is outdoors.

Some neighbors helped a farmer manage his crops when he had a heart-attack! They helped him get through that hard time!

A few daddies in Maryland helped kids by giving them desks. They spent their whole weekends making desk for kids.

If you want to help others go to page 4 and read!

RESEARCH

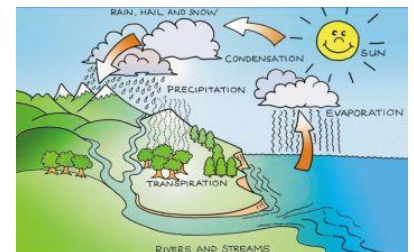

SAVING THE PLANET

Earth is one beautiful planet, but let's dive in and see what really is there. Yes, Earth is beautiful but there is a lot of pollution and a lot of ways you can help too.

Smoke and gases make a big effect with the water cycle. The smoke and gases float in the air and it mixes with the evaporated water and it forms a cloud. Then it rains, snows etc. from that cloud. It collects into a body of water that fishes and other sea animals swim in. Then a lot of fishes die which will disrupt the food chain and farmers won't have fish to sell.

One Earth

We have one Earth and we have to take care of it.

A lot of oil spills happen along with tons of garbage in the ocean. This impacts a lot of sea animals. Too many sea animals one tiniest thing can make a whole lot. For Example: a lot fishes die from eating garbage then seals can't eat the fishes and sharks can't eat the seals. So it can take a big effect on the food chain.

Many kids in Brazil don't have the right resources to learn. We want to help them! Our mission is to provide the teacher in the Beiradao Village in Moju, Brazil with the right resources to provide the kids access to science, arts, language, coding and math programs.

In Beiradao, today, one teacher teaches all the kids in the same classroom - all grades with only a blackboard! When we visited them last year she told us if she has the right resources she can teach them more subjects that will help them to get better jobs. Also, it help them to stay longer in school and spend less time getting in trouble.

Help us to help them. For now, we welcome ideas, suggestions or pledges. Soon we will be set-up to also take donations. In the meantime, let us know what you think at goodnewssundayfairfield@gmail.com
